Last year's lesson by
Prof. Tomotaka Sekine

IMPORTANT NOTICE

In this workshop, all participants are required to put on tabi, which are traditional Japanese socks usually worn with kimono in formal settings.

Tabi are essential in order to walk without raising your heels (one of the basic manners of Noh dance called hakobi), and anyone without a pair of white tabi is not allowed on a Noh stage.

The university will provide each participant a pair of tabi in his/her shoe size, so please be sure to specify your shoe size in cm when applying via Google Form. Please sign up only if you are sure you can attend.
